

Anniversary

celebrating four decades of engineering prowess

Turning 40 is a momentous event for most. ST Engineering marked the coming of age with a series of singular events, both to commemorate the occasion as well as to foster unity and team spirit among its over 18,000 staff.

A string of interactive activities was held, engaging the participation of staff members to promote the collegial spirit within the Group. ST Engineering's Family Day on 21 July saw Siloso Beach at Sentosa turn into a giant carnival, with thousands of staff members and their families enjoying games, performances and fun-filled activities.

Employees from ST Engineering and its global offices also gamely participated in the painting of the insides of over 1,000 teacups, some of which were eventually arranged into a 4V x X design as artworks. In September, about 160 staff took part in a series of races entitled Back to Our Roots, covering a distance of 40km to mark the 40th Anniversary. At the same event, the Garden of Origin was unveiled at Jalan Boon Lay, the founding ground of ST Engineering.

A bamboo garden, the Garden of Origin symbolises longevity and adaptability. Five time capsules carrying emblematic items from ST Engineering and each of its business sectors were assembled, to be displayed at each of their respective offices. The capsules will be reopened at ST Engineering's 100th Anniversary.

The anniversary celebrations culminated in the launch of a two-book set in November, comprising Under One Sun – which traces ST Engineering's historic development and achievements, and Uncharted Territory – which pays tribute to Dr Goh Keng Swee for his incisive role in Singapore's defence industry and the formation of ST Engineering.
