Continual Engagement

During the year, the Group's investor relations team held about 337 face-to-face investor meetings and conference calls, and participated in nine investor conferences in Singapore and Hong Kong. Such efforts keep our institutional shareholders updated on our business, and promote continued interest in the stock.

ST Engineering is well-covered by 18 sell-side analysts and the Group is committed to enhancing their understanding of our business and strategies. Besides quarterly results briefings and regular meetings, we organised facility visits to our aerospace, electronics, land systems and marine facilities for analysts during the year. These visits provided the analysts with additional insights into our operations.

ST Engineering takes a proactive approach in our investor relations, constantly engaging the investment community to keep them abreast of the Group's developments.

As part of our outreach to retail investors, ST Engineering participated in the inaugural Asian Investment Conference & Exhibition in Singapore, and remains a proud sponsor of the Securities Investors Association (Singapore) (SIAS) Investor Education Programme.

In line with ST Engineering's belief in providing timely disclosures to all investors, all our SGX releases are promptly posted on our website. Our quarterly results briefings are webcast live, with a channel for viewers to post questions online. The results presentation slides are also made available on our website.

ST Engineering's commitment to transparency has won us a Hall of Fame award from SIAS.
